can keep out of every bodies way unit the parade begins. We need ro know how many members are going in the parade.

Trail Ride

A special thanks to Lynn and Rich Coulter for inviting the Saddle Club to their farm for an afternoon of trail riding and a cook out. Nikki Kelly came and gave a demonstration on riding bridle less and tips on training your horse. The weather was great with sunshine, warm temperatures, and blue skies. There were about 14 horses and about 27 members and friends that attended this event. A very special thanks to Nikki Kelly from Red Barn Stables of Angola for bringing her horse down for the demonstration. The Kelly family stayed for the trail ride and joined us for our cook out. Pictures of the cook out and trail ride will be in next months issue of the news letter.

MUSING WITH STU....

- The show season in behind us with a special thanks to all the club members that has helped during all of our money making projects and horse shows. A special thank you to all that helped in the repainting of the club house and all the repairs that were made during the year. The Saddle Club could not would not be where we are today without your support. We are entering a time of year where we place a special influence on the family and friends. I hope that all of our members think of the members of the club as family and friends. During the trail ride, their were club members helping other members get saddled up and work their horses before they went out on the trail ride. For some of the members who brought extra horses to the trail ride so that other members could tide was a great sight. Some members had not ridden in a few years, and this was a good time to let them enjoy the pleasures in riding. We had members come in from the trails and start complaining about sore muscles. At the cook out there were members cooking the hot dogs over an open fire and keeping up with the demand for hot dogs. When everybody started eating the different conversations between the members was a great sight to see. We need to do more of these activities. To all the members:

- Happy Thanksgiving
