Bits and Pieces

The Three Angels

At the Horse Show on Saturday May 18, the Fair Board starting the repairs of the PA System and most of the Speakers system working. The PA System was not fully functioning. When we tried to get the CD Player to play for the intro to the Color Guard and National Anthem, we had no sound. We put out for a call for some person to come and sing the National Anthem. We received our three Angels, Kate Foutch, Kadence Oliver, and Katie Rheinheimer. Kadence and Katie are from the Red Barn Stables. We have had many enquiries on having these three Angels sing the National Anthem at an upcoming show or during the fair.

JMF

Before the show started, we found out that a Morgan Mare was having a foal and during the delivery the mare passed away. The foal was still living. Because of the quick thinking and fast response the foal received the colostrum it needed. The latest word that I have received is the foal has been released from the Vet's Office and has returned to the Johnson Farm. Best the luck to the Johnson Family and the continued well being of this young foal.

4-H Judging team

The DeKalb County Horse

and Pony Club placed 4th in the State's Judging Contest. This means that they are eligible to compete at the National 4-H Judging Contest. The time and place has not been determined. Good luck to Kara Surface and the rest of the team. Brenda Seely is the current 4-H leader coaching this team. Best of Luck at Nationals.

Mat & Margret Krutz

Mat & Margret brought their new POA to the Spring Show. He is just a two year old and he did an excellent job. This is his first time at our show and he acted like he had been at this show for many years. There are so many distraction but he did excellent.

MUSING WITH STU....

- The Spring Horse Show is behind us with a lot of good things to celebrate. The PA System is almost fixed, the sound to the barns and pavilion seemed to be working fine. Had many people say that they can hear us in the barn and we were able to move our show because every body was ready when their classes were called. This makes for a lot better show, Again it rained the night before the show and we showed halter under the pavilion. We had a portable PA system which helped in keeping the classes moving forward. The show had 71 different horses at the show. This is a huge number in relation to the number of horses at our last two spring shows. Last year we did not have 50 horses, big increase. We still had rain and the ring was still muddy but we had more horses at this show. Hope this is a good sign. Thanks to Steve Selleck who went out in the ring and “knifed” the arena before the afternoon session. This gave the water on the surface a chance to filter down and taking away a lot of the surface water. With horses working during the noon hour, the horses were digging up the arena, the arena started to dry out. It made out to be a good show. There were a lot of new faces in different jobs at the show and they seemed to adjust to their new jobs well. Mat and Margret did an excellent job on the gate. We were able to use only one gate do to the water. Mat and Margret did an excellent job in getting all the horses in and out of the arena with little down time. To all the Club members, GREAT JOB.
